The 100 Club

The 100 Club is an exclusive members only club that is open to companies wanting to be part of the Rainbow success story.

The Rainbow Centre in Fareham changes the lives of local children and adults affected by cerebral palsy, strokes, Parkinson's, multiple sclerosis and head injuries.

It costs £62,000 per month to provide our services and although a small fee is charged to each person attending a session the majority must be raised through voluntary donations.

100 Club companies help us by donating £100 per month to the centre enabling us to plan our service delivery with the security of knowing our level of cash flow each month.

Our aim is to have 250 member companies signed up from across the region. Are you able to spare just £100 per month to support some of our local society's most vulnerable children and adults?

As with all charitable donations becoming a 100 Club Member also carries the bonus that you can offset the amount of your donation against your profits for Corporation Tax. Giving to a local charity rather than paying the tax man has to be a fabulous win, win situation. For more details please check with your accountant.

Does a 100 Club member make a difference?

Cerebral Palsy, strokes, Parkinson's, Multiple Sclerosis and head injuries are all devastating health issues. Children with Cerebral Palsy face a life limited by physical disability and for adults, conditions caused by strokes, Parkinson's or MS dramatically affect their quality of life and importantly their dignity and independence. In each case it is a heart breaking experience for families to have to watch their children or their parents struggle on a daily basis.

By helping us to help these families, your donation really makes a big difference.

Each 100 Club member is invited to visit the centre regularly to see this difference first hand and to meet our service users and staff. Members also have first refusal on all our supporter events throughout the year and the opportunity to invite clients to our golf days, clay shoots and the Rainbow Ball. Members are also invited to attend exclusive 100 Club only networking events each year.

The Rainbow Centre

We operate from a purpose-built facility in Fareham, constructed in 2005 and entirely funded by public donations demonstrating the value of the work we do. Led and supervised by highly qualified conductors-teachers we currently provide 711 sessions throughout the 38 week academic year. We are open 6 days a week and each session is 2.5 hours long.

Currently we are working with 50 children and 40 adults with numbers growing monthly, many attend more than one session per week and some also attend individual sessions. The cost to the charity for every session delivered is £129 per attendee, and although this seems expensive to some, the results of seeing your child walk who couldn't or your parent regain control of their life is worth every penny.

How do we do what we do?

Conductive Education (CE) is a holistic, integrated programme of learning, which enables people with damage to the central nervous system to either overcome or manage the challenges they face. After damage or impairment to the central nervous system, there remains a residual capacity within the brain which can be activated to take over functions from the damaged areas. Much as we first learn to use our muscles and walk as a baby, so these new neural pathways leading to muscular control must also be learnt and established.

The Rainbow Centre in Fareham has been delivering CE since 1990 and relies almost entirely on charitable contributions. But over the last few years, like many other charities, organisations and businesses we have had to adapt to meet the challenges of a restricted financial environment.

We couldn't do what we do without the local business community by our side. Thanks to our supporters we will continue to provide this high level, award winning service to the families who rely on us. Please get in touch with us to become a 100 Club Member or visit our website www.rainbowcentre.org for more information.

Thank you from all at the Rainbow Centre.
